The Drum Major

My name is Sharike Gillespie. I am The West Side High School Marching Band Drum Major.

It is a dream come true for me. Ever since I saw my first parade, I had a feeling that this was a goal I wished to accomplish for myself.

Being drum major is the best position in the marching band but also the most difficult. A drum major must be energetic and creative. It is important to have control of the entire band.

It takes many hours of hard work during practice for the band and drum major to function as single unit. As difficult as it has been it has also been the best experience that I have had in high school.

The Marching Band

The Marching Band is on the move to the top! The band has grown considerably this year and becomes more cohesive every day.

A new section was added this year, a group of dancers who have already performed at staff breakfast meetings, football games and parades. They have greater plans for next year!

Debate

What is a debate? Is it a series of oral speeches? Or is it an argument between two people? In a way it is both.

A debate is persuasive speaking in which two contestants from opposing sides deliver persuasive presentations concerning certain resolutions. These resolutions are basically ethical dilemmas. The purpose of the argument is to convince the judge that your position is better based on facts and quotes from famous people. Debating requires research, dedication and most importantly commitment. A debate is a competitive event that helps to improve a student's critical thinking, communication and other academic skills.

Not only do you compete but you also have a lot of fun, travel, and earn money as well as awards. It also gives you a chance to learn how to interact with people from different ethnic backgrounds and beliefs. Most importantly, you learn about different cultures.

The team has been debating since September of 1997. It is composed of novices, junior varsity and varsity. To everyone's surprise we have come home with a lot of wins. Two of the team members, Victor Petway and Lyle Francois have been chosen for the state debate set for May 1998.

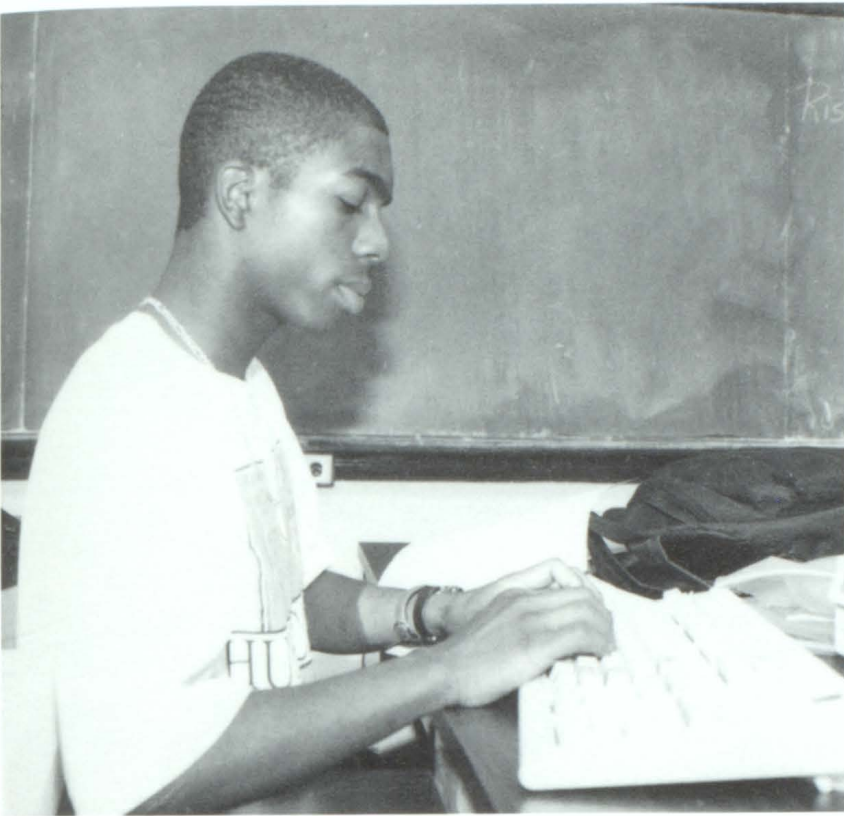

The members of the team are: Victor Petway, Nneoma Onyegbule, Haslyn Grenville, Lyle Francois, Grace Johnson, Marie Erminice and Tresha Buckle.

They Don't See That

A story about West Side High:

A reputation from the 80's is all we hear about.

Violence, stupidity
students being thrown out.

I don't see that!

There aren't anymore hallways
full of marijuana smoke,
Or in the back hallways
students selling dope.

They don't see that!

Our school has a debate team now.
They're always doing their job.
Our love and appreciation,
would make a heart throb.

They don't see that!

West Side's back again with a team made for chess.

Throughout Brick City
we rank second best.

They don't see that!

They can't sense our harmony or how far we've come.

They say "That one is dumb"
or "he's got a gun".

They think our brains are numb
and we come to school for fun.

But we're just as talented as any and everyone.

In the Kindness and Justice Challenge back in January, it was found, that West Side High
did more than all else around.

They don't see that!

Everyday we struggle.

Escape home to get to school.

Some live in broken homes,
some without food.

They don't see that!

West Side should be seen not for what it was, but what it has come to be.

They'll see our change
in the end they'll see me!

That I'll make them see!

Did you see that!?

North American Toshiba Exploravision Contest

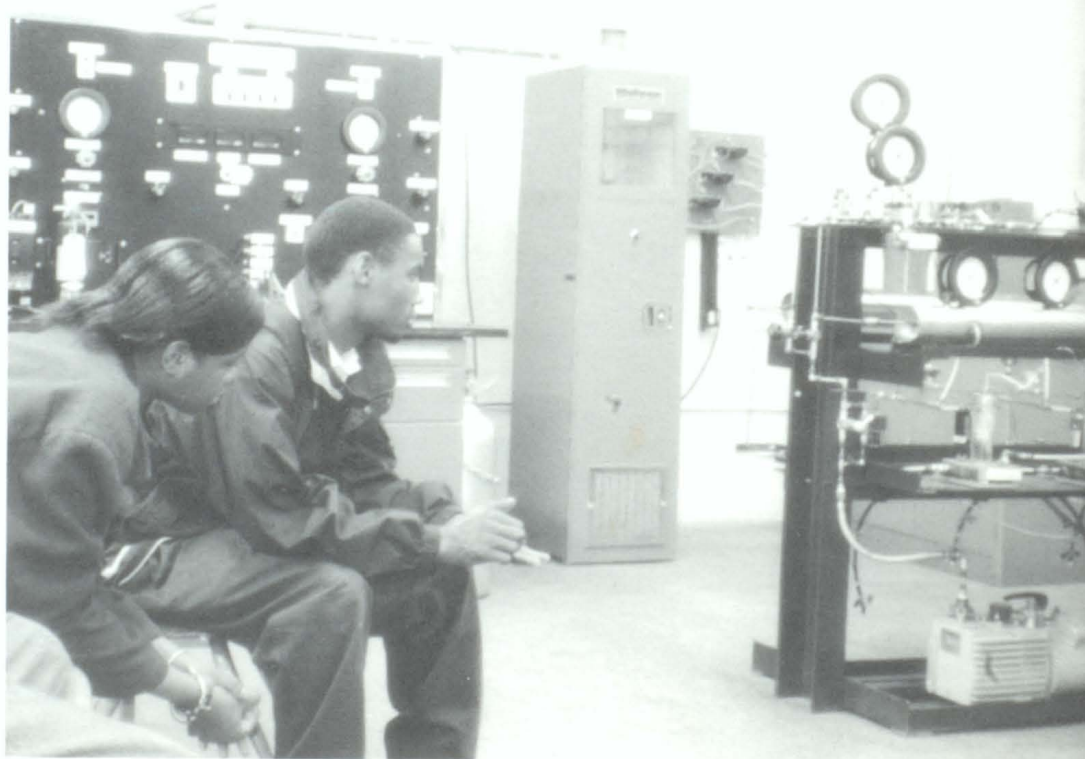

Have you ever considered the possibility of running your family's car with energy from the sun? Well, a group of West Side students are not only convinced that this is the future energy source and prototype for all vehicles, homes and factories but are designing the car of the future incorporating this concept in their project for the North American Toshiba Exploravision Contest.

On Thursday, December 18, 1997, as part of their research, a group of West Side physics students—Deon Bascom, Zarri Cox, Seay Fletcher, Donald Jones, Valery Matheus and Shane Nelson went to the Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art to consult with Dr. Joel Hollenberg who is one of the world's foremost visionaries in producing hydrogen from water by solar energy. He calls this system "Star Fuel" and it was awarded a U. S. Patent on April 30, 1996.

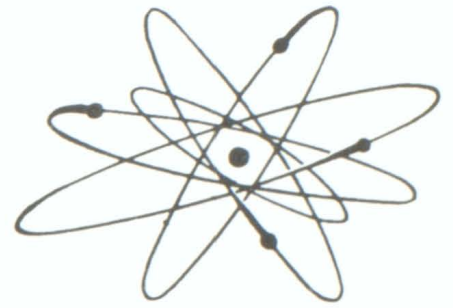

The students were fascinated in finding out how this system works by seeing it firsthand in the laboratory at the Albert Nerkin School of Engineering on Cooper Union's Campus in the East Village of Manhattan.

The only by product of this process is purified water which eliminates the harmful carbon by products of today's internal combustion engines.

The West Side students plan to use the Star Fuel process as part of their hydrogen car concept.

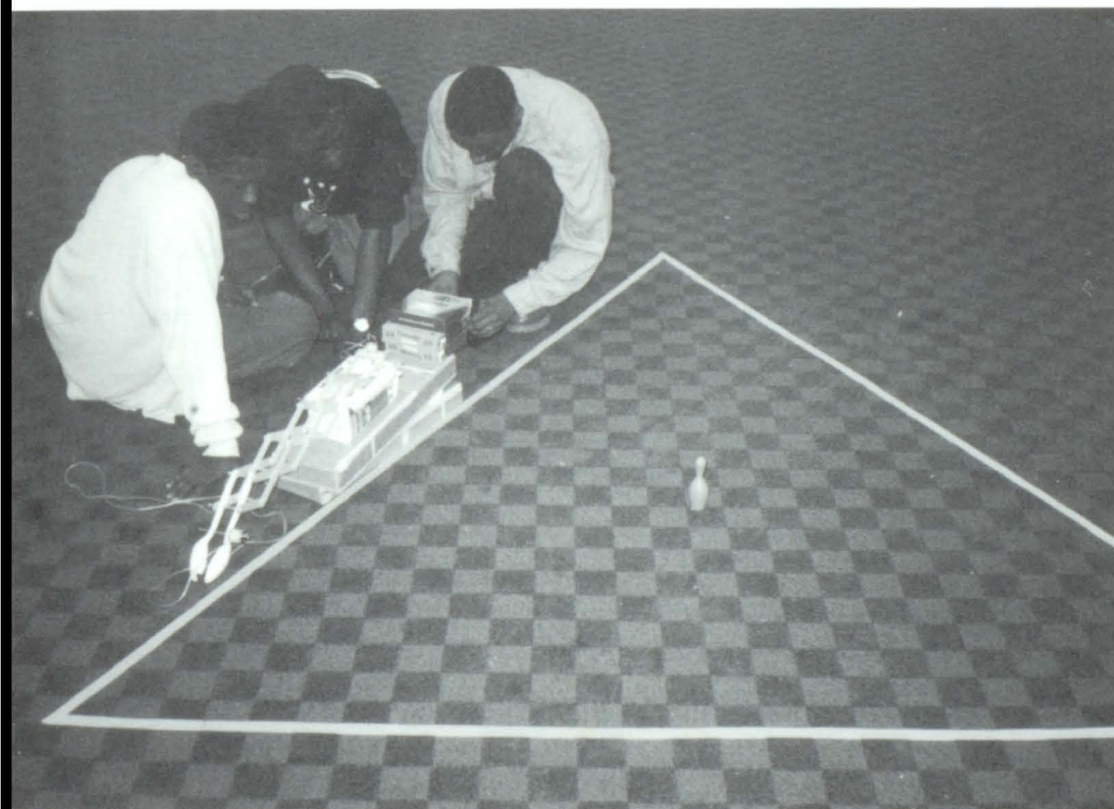

The Panasonic Challenge

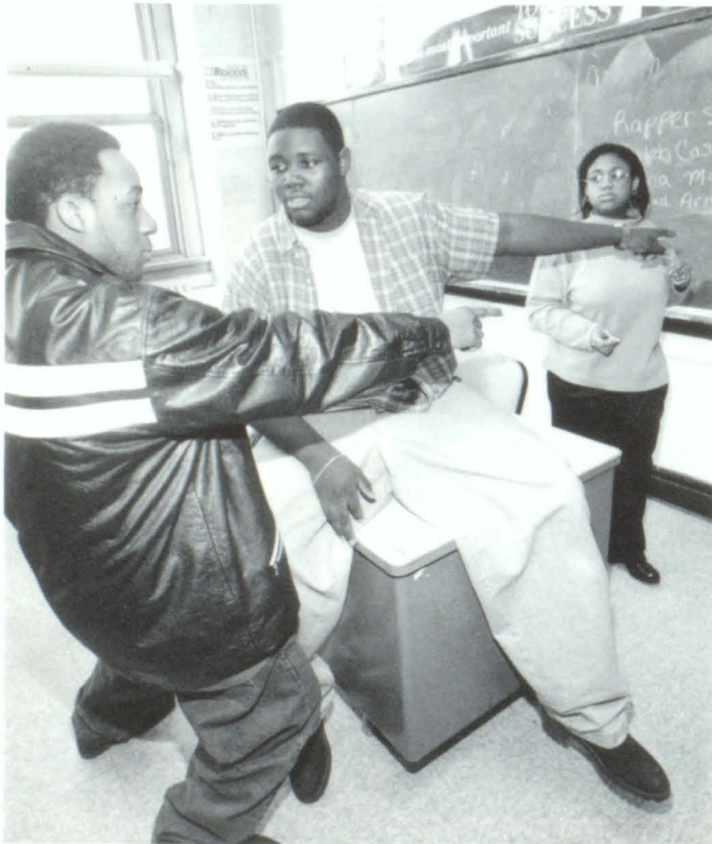

Shane Nelson, Deon Bascom and Donald Jones are working to prepare their robot for the preliminary trials of the Panasonic Creative Design Challenge held at N.J.I.T.

Shane, Deon and Donald set up their robot for the rescue. The bowling pin represents a pilot stranded on an island in the Bermuda Triangle.

Their challenge is to rescue the pilot while staying outside the triangle marked by the yellow tape.

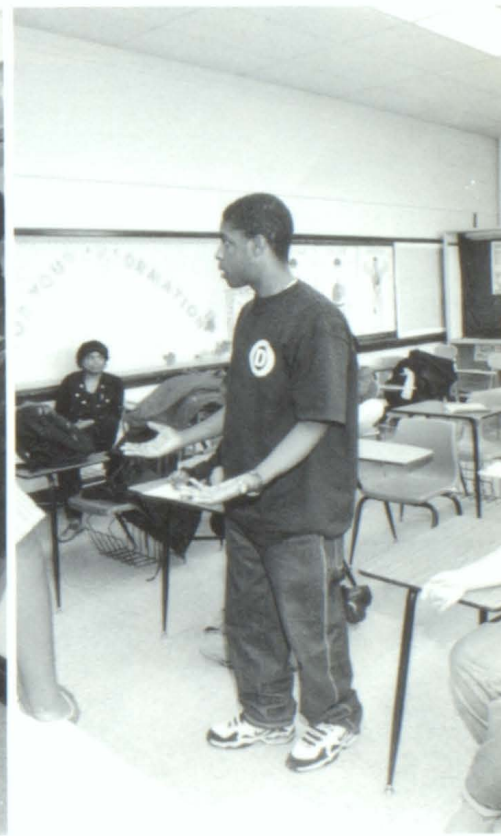

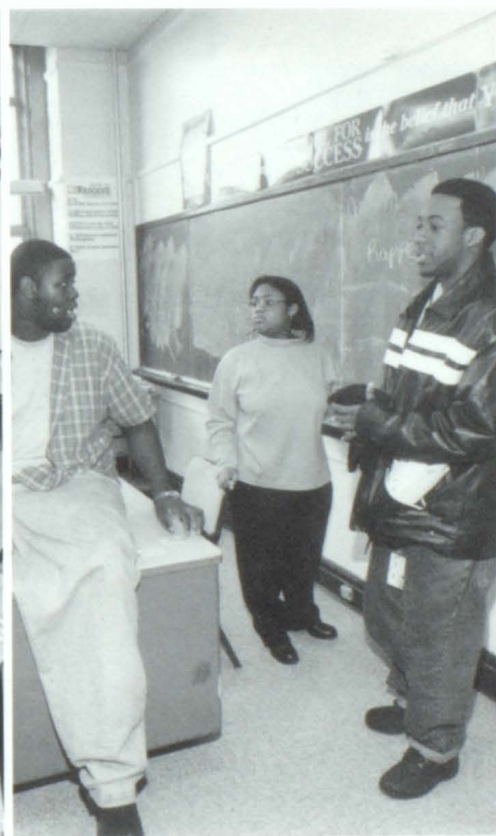

Brick City Productions

What's B.C.P.? If you don't know by know, it stands for Brick City Productions. The seniors decided to name their company that to show their devotion to the community. The seniors have started their own record label, courtesy if Hiram Hicks, President of Island Black Music.

We have held auditions for our music video about the community but we are in need of financial support. We continue to look for sponsors. Keep your eyes on us and look for our video this spring.

The tournament lasted for four days. The first day, eighty people bowled but only fifty came back for the second day. After the second day, twenty-five people came back and out of those twenty-five bowlers only fifteen came back on the third day. On the fourth day, just twelve bowlers returned and of those twelve, five bowled on television.

Three of those final bowlers were from West Side High School. Pictured are Donald Jones, who placed fourth, Dorene Sterling, who placed second, and Harold Lafayette, placing fifth.

A High School Reflection ...

By Shalonda Taylor

During your high school years perhaps the most memorable times you have are the ones you spend with your friends. Although I have been fortunate to have made a lot of friends in West Side there is one friend in particular who changed my life.

I first met Dwayne during my freshman year. His gentleness and wisdom made him different. He was in several of my classes, and we became instant friends. We were always together. Through thick and thin, we always remained close.

It was no secret to me that Dwayne had medical problems, he was constantly in and out of the hospital for various reasons. At first, it was of no concern to me because he always returned to school with that wacky grin on his face.

During my sophomore year Dwayne and I were closer than ever, but something about him changed. I could sense that he was getting sicker. I'm still not sure what made me realize that about him; maybe his smile didn't have the same spark, or he just seemed a little more distant.

They say that nothing can prepare you for something as tragic as death. I wish that wasn't true. Perhaps it's even harder when the person who dies is your best friend.

Dwayne went into the hospital and never returned to school again. His mother said that he was getting worse. Then all of a sudden his lungs collapsed. I think the biggest thing I regret is not going to see him in the hospital.

I cried for days. I didn't want to believe that he wasn't coming back to school.

The saddest memory I can recall is walking into biology class, only to tell my teacher the bad news. At that moment we cried and grieved together.

I did a lot of growing up that year. I learned about life's lessons. One was taking things for granted. It's something I try not to do because you never know when your time will end.

There is not a single day that goes by that I don't yearn to see Dwayne's face again - wishing that we could graduate together.

Although I have to move on, Dwayne's memory will forever be with me.

Off To A Good Start!

The class of 1999 is off to a great start. During the month of December, the Junior Class donated toys to students at Thirteenth Avenue School. Ms. Howard, one of the advisors, would like to thank all of the students who participated in the toy drive. Ms. Anderson commended the students as well as the staff. She stated, "West Side provided beautiful gifts for the students at Thirteenth Avenue. I am sure they provided joy to some child perhaps less fortunate than we are."

West Side High Takes The K & J Challenge!

West Side High School accepted the challenge and won a trophy for being the top high school in the city of Newark in the Kindness and Justice Challenge Program. Created by Newark, Do Something, this program spread nationwide and thousands of schools participated in performing acts of kindness and justice.

The goal of the program is to create a tradition for Martin Luther King, Jr. Day that honors him by performing acts which reflect his philosophy, "Life's most persistent and urgent question, what are you doing for others?"

During the two weeks leading up to the celebration of Dr. King's birthday, The West Side "Roughriders" performed more than one thousand documented Acts of Kindness (helping others) and Acts of Justice (standing up for what is right). Led by Student Council President, Marcus Allen and student leader Richard White, and supported by the administration and staff, especially the teachers in the English Department, the top ten participants averaged over forty K & J Acts during the challenge.

Lakeisha Adams, Kina Mace and Saraya Burks led all others with their daily deeds which ranged from helping friends and siblings with homework to lending a compassionate ear to friends, and going to the store for senior citizens. By working together as a group, Ms. Jesse's, Mr. Gass' and Mr. Stuck's classes led all others in their K & J performance.
